Brick River

Web software and services for mission-driven organizations.

We're headquartered in a 19th century brick building overlooking the Squamscott River in historic Exeter, New Hampshire.

We believe in hard work, personable service, and having fun along the way. We reject fads and gimmicks in favor of building long-term value for our clients and employees.

We're web designers, developers, and marketing professionals passionate about helping you do your job better.

Whether you're a nonprofit trying to advance your cause or a business focused on growth, our software lets you focus on what's important, not your tech.

The Faith INFO Team of the United Church of Christ

The United Church of Christ is strong because of its local congregations. The Faith Education, Innovation, Formation (Faith INFO) team's work is to support those congregations in the programmatic, visionary, and strategic work in inter-generational community.

The Faith INFO Team equips local congregations with resources to teach and to preach for all ages; curating and creating materials where needed. They hold focus on key constituents like youth and young adults, Congregations of Color and Ethnic Identified Congregations, New Church Plants, and how to support local churches in micro-grants.

Part of the group's work involves assisting communities to assess, plan, and live into who God is calling them to be—both present and future.
